

Title of collective work.....

Scientific editor

STATEMENT CONCERNING TRANSFER OF PROPRIETARY COPYRIGHTS

Name and surname of the Author of an article/chapter

Author's place of residence

Hereby I declare that:

1) I have written an article/chapter (hereinafter called "the work") entitled

.....

2) the writing is my original work and it does not infringe copyrights, the related rights and personal interests of third parties,

3) I transfer onto the Publisher – the Poznań University of Economics - proprietary copyrights to the work; this done in the following fields of exploitation:

a) reproduction of the work or its fragments within the scope necessary for publishing a collective work on any carriers, particularly on the carriers suitable for computer technologies (this provision applies to both a typescript and recording in electronic form)

b) fixation of the work or its excerpts within the scope necessary for publishing a collective work on any carriers and particularly those suitable for computer technologies;

c) putting the work or its excerpts into computer databases within the scope necessary for publishing a collective work ;

d) getting acquainted with the work's source code (deassembly, decompilation, interpretation of the code, and the like) – this applies exclusively to the work which is part of a computer programme / programming module;

e) editorial preparation of the work within the scope necessary for publishing a collective work;

f) entering the work into computer and multimedia networks (including the Internet) within the scope necessary for editing a collective work and its publication in electronic form;

g) making the work available so that each person has access to it in a chosen place and time;

h) publication of the entire work or parts thereof, as well as all information concerning creation of the work, its contents or form and the mode of production, by means of any technique, irrespective of the type of publication, medium , number of copies and number of editions, including electronic version;

i) availability of the work in research repositories on the principle of unpaid free licence in the formula selected by the University at its sole discretion

j) dissemination of the edited copies of the work, particularly through sales, both on the territory of the Republic of Poland and abroad;

k) rental and lease of the published copies of the work;

l) creation of derivative works (elaborations), in particular versions in foreign languages, using them within the same scope as the work, and disposing of them within this scope;

m) archiving the copies of the work.

4) I have obtained in writing a permission of the persons who are authors of illustrations or other materials protected by law and contained in the work, and I have settled individually all the related costs and fees, so that in the future the Publisher will not be charged with any liabilities in consequence of using these materials,

5) by virtue of editing the work, its publication and dissemination, and also by virtue of transfer of proprietary copyrights upon the Publisher within the scope referred to under point 3, I will not demand any payment of remuneration, nor will I have any other claims, and hereby I expressly renounce this kind of claims towards The Poznań University of Economics and its legal successors .

.....

Author's signature